We welcome all your comments, compliments and complaints. They help to show us where we are getting things right, and where we need do something differently.

They can be submitted in any format – letter, email, phone, social media etc and from anyone who receives a service from us. We may also consider complaints from anyone who believes they have been adversely affected by our services. If you don't want to talk to us yourself, we also accept comments, compliments and complaints from someone acting on your behalf.

How we deal with complaints

We are committed to providing you with an excellent quality of service which treats you with respect and fairness. If you are not happy with any part of this service, you can complain to us and we'll try to put it right. Our aim is always to deal with your complaint thoroughly to your satisfaction.

We train our staff to resolve a complaint as quickly as possible and, where possible, the first time you contact us about it.

We take every complaint seriously and investigate them thoroughly before we respond. We ask you what you think we should do to resolve the complaint and we keep in contact with you while your complaint is being investigated.

We have a three stage process:

- We aim to resolve straightforward complaints informally within one working day.
- If your complaint is more complex, it may require an investigation. If this is the case, we will contact you within two days to discuss it and aim to resolve it within 10 working days. If it becomes clear that the investigation may take longer, we will agree an extension with you.
- If you are not satisfied with our response to your complaint, you may ask for a review by a director. To request a review, you will need to set out why we have not resolved the complaint to your satisfaction and what you would like us to do to resolve it. It will not be enough just to say you are unhappy.

The director will, if appropriate, contact you to discuss your complaint and may wish to visit you. They will aim to complete their review of the complaint within 10 working days.

Unreasonable or repetitive complaints

Most of the complaints we receive are made reasonably and in good faith and because customers are genuinely unhappy with our service. We will do our best to resolve these. However, where we believe we have resolved a complaint to the best of our ability, we reserve the right to stop corresponding over matters that simply repeat the same complaint.

Compensation Policy

In certain circumstances, you may be entitled to compensation for your complaint, if there has been a failure in our service, or we have not resolved it in line with our processes. We have a separate compensation policy available.

What happens if I am not satisfied with the outcome of my complaint?

If you are not happy with the outcome of your complaint, once we have completed our process you may have the right to complain to a 'designated person' and the Housing Ombudsman Service.

Complaints from DOMUS residents should go to the Property Ombudsman Service.

A 'designated person' or 'panel' are people nominated by MPs and local councillors to play more active role in resolving complaints.

Their job is to provide an independent view of your complaint with the hope it can be resolved. With your permission, they may also refer complaints to the Ombudsman.

If you wish to refer your complaint directly to the Housing Ombudsman, you can do so 8 weeks after the final stage of our complaints process. The 8-week qualification does not apply to DOMUS residents approaching the Property Services Ombudsman.

Please note that the Ombudsman service decides whether a complaint is within its remit, not Accent.
